

College English II – ENGL 1202

College English II (ENGL 1202) introduces the student to three genres of literature (poetry, fiction, and drama) and to the writing of the research paper. Though a research essay is required in 1201, 1202 takes the skills learned from doing this assignment and develops them further, so the student can write a complete research paper. Three papers are required in 1202 – two shorter writings and the research paper. Along with the literature and research strategies, 1202 is now also interdisciplinary, with supplementary prose essays being used to complement the literature, in connection with the theme of each particular section of 1202. There are four varieties of 1202: Literature and the Human Psyche, Literature and Public Life, Literature and Nature, and Literature and the Humanities.
